New York, NY, USA: Lewis Publishing Company, 1911. Nathan Gould, son of Nathan Gould, of England, was the immigrant ancestor; he came from St. Edmundsbury in South Britain, and was in Milford, Connecticut, as early as 1647, in which year he purchased land there. December 12, 1649, he purchased "George Hubbard's dwelling-house & home lot at Milford, all his upland & meadow", and on the thirty-first of the next December sold the same and removed to Fairfield. Here he became the owner of several estates, and seems to have occupied himself largely with the buying and selling of lands and homesteads. His name is mentioned in the Connecticut Royal Charter of 1662. He died March 4, 1694, greatly respected by the people of the town and honored throughout Connecticut and New England for his Christian character, sterling worth and great usefulness. His will dated March 1, 1693-94, mentioned his only son, Nathan, to whom he left most of his real estate, also four daughters, Sarah Thompson, Deborah Clark, Abigail Selleck and Martha Selleck, to whom he left the remainder of his estate, to be equally divided among them. The name of his first wife is not known. He married (second) Martha, widow of Edmund Harvey, of Fairfield; she died in Fairfield, 1694. No issue. Children: Wife Sarah children: Nathan, mentioned below; Sarah; Deborah; Martha, married (first) John Selleck; (second) Rev. John Davenport, of Stamford, grandson of Rev. John Davenport, the ecclesiastical founder of New Haven; by her second husband she had seven children, and became the ancestor of a talented and illustrious lineage; Abigail. Came to US in 1646-1647 from St Edmund Bury (or Bury St Edmund) Co, Suffolk, England. Purchased land in Milford, Conn 1647 & 1649. Sold land in Milford, Conn Dec 31 1649/50 & moved to Fairfield. Bought land in Fairfield in 1657. Town Clerk in Fairfield, served as judge of the "sea-side" Courts. 1657 was made an assistant and appointed as Magistrate by General Assembly. He with Gov. Winthrop & others (19 in all) joined in the petition to Charles II of England to grant charter to Connecticut and he was named Assistant to the Governor in that new charter which was granted in 1662. 1664 he was made commander in chief of the military forces in Fairfield Co to provide against attacks by the Dutch.

GENEALOGICAL AND PERSONAL HISTORY OF NORTHERN PENNSYLVANIA" Under the Editorial Supervision of John W. Jordan, LL.D. Volume II, page 895-896. (1913) -

"The GOULD family has been established in America since its earliest colonial days. Nathan Gould, or, as he was known, Major Nathan Gold, removed from Saint Edmondson, Cambridge, England, to Fairfield, Connecticut, during the reign of Charles II, and was one of the first settlers of that town; rendered much military service; was a wealthy landowner in 1649-1653; a member of council, 1657-1694; died March 4, 1694."

He came over to this country in 1646-7 from St. Edmund's Bury (or Bury-St. Edmund's), Co.

Suffolk, Eng.; he purchased land in Milford, Conn., in 1647, and again in 1649. On Dec. 31, 1649 (or 1650), he sold his land in Milford and removed to Fairfield, in which town he first bought land in 1652. He was Town Clerk in Fairfield and served as a Judge of the "sea-side" courts. In 1657 he was made an Assistant and was also appointed as a Magistrate by the General Assembly. He, with Governor Winthrop and others (19 in all), joined in the petition to Charles II of England to grant the Charter to Connecticut and he was named an Assistant to the Governor in that new Charter which was granted in 1662. So he was an Assistant under the old and new charters from 1657 until his death in 1693-4. The fact that he was named an Assistant in the Charter of Charles II is ample proof of his standing in the Colony. No gentleman would have been called upon to sign the petition for the Charter, and none would have been named an Assistant in the New Charter, but those who had maintained a high reputation in England before coming to this country. In 1664 he was made Commander-in-Chief of the military forces in Fairfield County to provide against attack by the Dutch. He was a member of the Committee on War in 1665 and was made a Major in 1673 and commanded the Fairfield troops in war against the Indians in 1675. In 1684 he was one of a committee of five sent from Connecticut to New York to congratulate Governor Dongan on his arrival in New York and to settle the boundary dispute between New York and Connecticut. He made his will on March 1, 1693-4, and died at Fairfield, March 4, 1693-4, 3 days after making his will. His death is thus recorded in the Town Records of Fairfield:-"Major Nathan Gold departed this life into the mansions of rest upon the Day of Rest, on the Sabbath, it being the 4th of March, 1693-4." Almost from the moment of his arrival in Fairfield for nearly 40 years he had been a leader in political, military and ecclesiastical affairs of the town and colony. No man in the country was more respected or honored than he, and none in New England stood higher in the esteem of the Lords of the Council Chamber at Whitehall. In his will his only son Nathan, his daughters Sarah (wife of John Thompson of Fairfield); Deborah (wife of George Clark of Milford); Abigail (wife of Jonathan Selleck of Stamford), and Martha (widow of John Selleck). The will does not mention an elder daughter who m. Dr. Josiah Harvey of Fairfield, as she had died childless before her father's death. No mention is made of his wife who also died before him. Schenck's History of Fairfield, vol. i, p. 370, states, "The name of his first wife is not known." If he was married previous to his marriage to the widow of Edmund Harvey there is at present no evidence of the fact; and his wife Martha Harvey-Gold was certainly the mother of his children.
